How?

Digestion Enhancer: According to the International Journal of Pharmaceutical Sciences Review & Research, Aloe has an acidic pH that encourages the body to secrete proper amounts of hydrochloric acid to digest food. Also helps neutralize pathogens that enter through the mouth.⁷

Collagen Stimulator: Aloe is known as the vegan equivalent of birds nest-a beauty skin food. The Indian Journal of Dermatology states that aloe vera has the remarkable ability to reverse the aging effect by stimulating the synthesis of collagen, helping you retain youthful skin. It also increases the degree of collagen cross linking, helping the repair of any unsightly wounds.

Anti-inflammatory: According to the Chitkara Chemistry Review, Salicylic Acid, found in Aloe Vera, acts almost like aspirin by disrupting the production of inflammation causing prostaglandin hormones. Aloe also contains powerful anti-inflammatory agents-plant sterols. It inhibits COX-2, another enzyme that causes inflammation.⁵

Natural Painkiller: The International Journal of Current Trends in Pharmaceutical Research states that Aloe contains the enzyme 'bradykinase' which breaks down the pain causing chemical bradykinin. The polysaccharides within the aloe plant help stimulate the growth and repair of tissues, relieving pain.⁶

Toxin Remover: Aloe helps the immune system remove toxins. It contains amino acids which help remove heavy metals. Saponins act as an internal cleanser, as brought out by the International Journal of Pharmaceutical & Biological Sciences.⁸

Allergy Soother: According to the Journal of Pharmacognosy and Phytochemistry, Aloe Vera is an adaptogen-boosting your body's natural ability to adapt to external changes and resist illness. It stimulates the body's defense mechanisms and adaptive mechanisms. By strengthening the immune system, your body will achieve internal balance, ridding itself of unwanted food or skin allergies.

What makes our aloe so special?

We have specially harvested organically grown aloe vera plants, then spray dried it to retain its enzymes and polysaccharides, creating 'Active Aloe' i.e. Aloe Vera which has not been chemically processed, preserving all its live enzymes and nutrients

Directions for Use

We have created 2 versions of products to channel the miraculous power of the aloe plant for your convenience.

Both our aloe drinks are suitable for all ages.

Aloe Fusion—the liquid form of active aloe, we have mixed this drink with natural flavours and taste enhancers to give you a healthy and tasty treat.

For maintenance of digestive health: Drink a diluted glass of aloe every morning to stimulate your digestive system, with a ratio of 4 ounces of aloe with 8 ounces of water.

For aiding digestion problems: Take the aloe straight from the bottle in its concentrated solution.

For fighting an infection: Take the concentrated aloe form every hour together with Organic Vision's Triple Defense supplements to give your immune system ammunition

Aloe Mix: the powdered form of active aloe, we have created this for the convenience of those on the go and frequent travelers.

Aloe Mix also contains pineapple and papaya enzymes to maximize digestion.

Simply mix 2 scoops of aloe mix powder with 12 ounces of water. You may also have the option of mixing your aloe fusion drink with the aloe mix powder for a variety of flavours.
